EXPERIENCE

Personal Web ↻

September 2022

This is a personal project I made to have my personal website and practice with Next.js and React.

Stack: Next.js, React, JavaScript, HTML, CSS

Planet Wars ↻

May 2022

The goal of this project is to create a ship game with Java and graphical interfaces for the GUI. The game consists of surviving waves of enemies with the goal of destroying and looting your planet. Your objective will be to prepare your troops to face this threat.

Stack: Java, SQL Developer

Choose Your Story ↻

March 2022

Using Python and SQL hosted in Azure, we created the game 'Choose your Story', which is a game of choice where we can choose different stories where you will star a character who must choose different options to continue his adventure, it is a linear story game, which when the adventure ends can end in one way or another. We also made a web page for the game.

Stack: Python, SQL, Azure VM, HTML, CSS
